The applicant's international patent application WO 01/76663 discloses a method for the production of dosage units such as pills, tablets and/or hard capsules with a core material and a cover which, in at least one layer, are formed from a sheet of a polyolefin material, which cover is applied around the core material and joined to the core material by way of seals. The core material is produced in a known manner by injection-moulding. The resulting product may be filled in a closed packaging machine, with which at least one surface of the packaging is shaped to obtain a tubular-shaped closed packaging, wherein the outlet of the packaging machine can be provided with covers which are applied in a known manner by welded seams or glued seams. The core material is shaped, preferably to the final form, in a known manner in the injection moulding tool. The core material may be filled in a closed, closed packaging machine which is equipped with clamps which hold the cover over the core material until at least the outlet of the closed packaging machine is closed by the covers and the packaging can be filled with the contents in a known manner. After the closed packaging machine has finished filling the packaging, the outlet of the closed packaging machine is opened and the finished packaging is further worked into a final shape in a known manner. f678ea9f9e
